Seminar on Conservation
Friday, 9 November 2012, 2:30pm - 5pm
The URA Centre, Function Hall Level 5
45 Maxwell Road, Singapore 069118

Conservation is an on-going journey which aims to keep the original fabric, spirit and character of heritage buildings. By bringing them to life with new uses, they will remain relevant to today’s lifestyle.

The selection, legal protection and physical restoration of buildings are part of the important process. Ideally, the intangible aspects of heritage should also be identified, protected and sustained.

For restored buildings to have a meaningful and prolonged life-span, a balance has to be struck between the protection and presentation of the different aspects of heritage and the needs of commerce and community.

This seminar will present the different ways where the history of a heritage building has been represented in its adaptation for new uses. URA will also share the broader planning considerations for the conservation and impending development of two civic landmarks in Singapore.

Registration starts at 2:30pm

Seminar Speakers

Mr Tan Kay Ngee
Principal, Kay Ngee Architects
Topic: The Restoration of The Sultan

Mr Chan Ee Mun
Senior Associate, WOHA
Topic: Space Asia Hub: A Story of Contrast

Mr Kelvin Ang
Deputy Director, Conservation Management, Urban Redevelopment Authority
Topic: Saving Two Modern Landmarks: Sustaining a sense of Place and Society

Q&A Session

Target CPD Participants
The event is directed at professionals in the closely affiliated architectural industry; teachers; academics and students involved in architectural education; as well as members of the public who are interested in conservation.

Registration
For details on registration, please visit
http://www.arch.nus.edu.sg/seminar/registration.aspx
Registration is free and closes on 8 Nov 2012
For query, call Ms Victoria Chew at 65167627

Accredited by the BOA-SIA and PEB CPD Program
CPD Accreditation: 3 points

Jointly organised by NUS Department of Architecture & Urban Redevelopment Authority
URA Speakers Series & fringe event of 2012 Singapore Institute of Architects Archifest