This is the first in a series on “Broadening and Deepening Our Design Thinking.” The format will take the form of a conversation with a special guest speaker. This time it is with the Dean of LKY School of public policy and former diplomat Kishore Mabubani. This session will be on Friday 25th August at 4.30 to 5.45. It is to tap his vast experience on global, regional and local issues that could inform our thinking regarding our contribution to spatial design at all scales. We must go beyond garnishing the dishes and design of the table settings but begin to participate in designing the kitchen! Lets make this a deep and broad learning session!

About the Speaker

A student of philosophy and history, Professor Kishore Mahbubani is the Dean of the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy of the National University of Singapore. Concurrently, Prof Mahbubani serves in the Boards and Councils of institutions around the world, including the Yale President’s Council on International Activities (PCIA), University of Bocconi International Advisory Committee, and as Chairman of the Lee Kuan Yew World City Prize Nominating Committee. Before that, he enjoyed a long career with the Singapore Foreign Service from 1971 to 2004. He had postings in Cambodia (where he served during the war in 1973-74), Malaysia, Washington DC and New York, where he served two stints as Singapore’s Ambassador to the UN and as President of the UN Security Council in January 2001 and May 2002. He was Permanent Secretary at the Foreign Ministry from 1993 to 1998.

Prof Mahbubani has spoken and published globally. His articles have appeared in a wide range of publications, including Foreign Affairs, Foreign Policy, Washington Quarterly, Survival, American Interest, National Interest, Time, Newsweek, Financial Times and New York Times. He has also been profiled in the Economist and in Time Magazine. He is the author of Can Asians Think?, Beyond The Age Of Innocence, The New Asian Hemisphere, The Great Convergence, Can Singapore Survive, and co-author of The ASEAN Miracle. His books have been read and translated widely. The Great Convergence was selected by the Financial Times as one of the best books of 2013.
